

I'M SUPPOSED TO BE...

GET TALKING

Share about a time when you felt insecure or inadequate. What caused it? What did you do?

MESSAGE HIGHLIGHTS

1. Insecurity whispers "I'm not good enough"
2. Comparison breeds dissatisfaction
3. God-focus brings big possibilities

DIG IN

Read Exodus 3:1-15; 4:10-12

- Look back at this passage, and focus on what Moses says and the questions he asks. Do you see yourself in any of Moses' questions or insecurities? Have you ever felt inadequate before God? If so how? why do you think Moses struggled to trust God?
- We see in the passage that Moses was focusing on the "what ifs." Jason mentioned this weekend that focusing on "what if" hinders our trust in God. As you think about your relationship with God, are you focusing on the "what if" too much? What is drawing your attention that way? What do you worry about most?
- Look back at the passage and focus on how God responds to Moses. Do you see a pattern or a common theme in how God responds to him? Based on what you see, what do you think God would say to you if you brought your worries and insecurities (whatever they might be) to Him? What are some truths about God we conveniently forget when we're in the midst of something difficult?
- God continually brings Moses' focus back to who God is. In the sermon this week Jason mentioned that "our view of God determines how we live." As a small group, how can you help each other to have a "God-focus," as well as a correct view of who God is?
- What might God call you into that would cause you to be insecure, inadequate, or nervous? How would you now overcome it?

BIG IDEA: Shift your focus from who you're not to who God is.

NEXT STEPS

Take some time as individuals to pray and think about how you view God. Reflect on the things in your life that you worry about, or that make you feel insecure. What part of God's character might He be calling you to focus on more? Is it His grace, provision, love, power, peace or maybe something else? How can you commit to focusing on that over the next week?

Prayer

Lord, help us to focus on who you are this week. Teach us to take our eyes off the "what ifs" and our insecurities, and to trust in who You are.
